He gave guidance on the role of social worker link between the people at the village level as well as the society and the underprivileged while carrying out rural development and the responsibility of carrying out development work at the village level while maintaining social commitment.

3. Mr. Atik Syed, Mental Health Specialist, Pune

On 21.08.2019, he gave in-depth guidance to the college students on social awareness and mental stress and illness. Many kinds of problems arise in the daily life of society and family. Different challenges have to be faced. The people in the house try to solve it in their own way, to face them. Sometimes the elders of the family are consulted to solve the problem and sometimes the neighbors are rushed to. Sometimes help comes from friends. It can be said that a person who has the ability to cope easily with various situations and emotions in his life has gained mental health. But it does not mean that all the problems that come in our life get satisfactory answers or find ways. Not all people have the strength to deal with situations. Explaining the role of psychosocial activists in the society, he expressed his views on the current situation.

4. Mr. Tejas Malvadkar,

Assistant Commissioner, Social Welfare office, Nanded

On 07 January 2020, the college students were given guidance on the Central Government level Civil Service Examination and the State Government level State Service Examination. Both of these examinations lead to selection for the officer level. There are selections for officer posts at both Group-A and Group-B levels.

5. Mr. Pawan Girwalkar,

Secretary, Jeevan Aadhar Ashram,

Pimpala Dhayaguda Tq. Ambajogai Dist. Beed

Social, economic, religious, political, intellectual etc. Service-oriented organizations working for public welfare in the region. These organizations are organized for a specific purpose and objective and the volunteers working in them are willing to do any work and help voluntarily and selflessly.

Agitation March for Social Work Students:

The Government of Maharashtra, Department of Tribal Affairs, Ministry, and Mumbai has decided on 20th August, 2019 that the post of Superintendent and Housekeeper in the Ashram School run under the Department of Tribal Affairs is mandatory for students with a degree in Social Work. However, as per the above decision, the government had decided to give this post to a graduate of any branch instead of a social work graduate. Therefore, against this government decision, the post should be reserved only for the students pursuing social work degree and post-graduate education. On 27.08.2019 Demonstration on behalf of the Alumni Association at the Deputy Collector's Office
